The Corporate Priorities and our Children's Services vision are underpinned by the values of the organisation. We deliver our services by working to the values of being:

- Fair
 - tackling inequality and promoting residents rights
 - ensuring residents are part of decision making
 - ensuring our staff have the right support

 - acting now to create a better future

Reading Children's Services are committed to achieving excellence through continual improvement where children and their families are at the heart of everything that we do and have the opportunity to influence and shape the services that they receive.

The delivery of quality services is dependent upon a whole system approach to organisational competence which reflects continual improvement and a learning organisation. The success of service delivery is measured by improving the outcomes for children and their families, achieving agreed targets and raising standards. It will need the commitment and support of all managers and their teams to ensure that quality assurance activity is embedded, evaluated and acted upon.

We recognise that we can only deliver our vision through effective and integrated partnership working across a variety of agencies, including schools, police, health and voluntary and community sectors. At the heart of our vision is the intention to always put children and young people and their families first and to deliver services that will help them to sustainably help themselves.

Our Quality Assurance Framework establishes a clear mechanism for ensuring that services are delivered to the standards we want for our children and families. Through the delivery of the framework we can ensure and demonstrate that from the councillors to frontline staff that children are at the heart of service planning and delivery

1 Introduction

- 1.1 Quality assurance is an integral part of everyday practice within Children's Services. Measuring the impact of service delivery is central to achieving improved outcomes for children. This requires a strong quality assurance system to be in place that evidences that services are being delivered effectively and to standards that enable children's welfare to be safeguarded and promoted.
- 1.2 A strong quality assurance framework assists the organisation to deliver an efficient and effective service. The framework if applied correctly will assist managers and the organisation to ensure:
- Vulnerable children, young people and their families' outcomes are improved.
 - Services are achieving consistently high standards.
 - Services are regularly monitored, reviewed and evaluated.
 - The organisational culture is committed to learning and continual development.
 - The continuous improvement and development of the children's workforce.
- 1.3 Whilst quality assurance has a scrutiny role, it is important to focus on the supportive and educative function of the role by describing what good practice looks like, and evaluating against this. Effective quality assurance will provide high challenge and support, and is crucially important in supporting the workforce to improve outcomes for children and young people.
- 1.4 Underpinning the Quality Assurance Framework is an understanding that continual improvement depends on a culture of reflection in action and reflection following action (reflection during social work practice and in supervision/ consultation/ discussion). This is then fed into the double learning loop for the practitioner, service and organisation so that we can re-think, plan appropriately and improve outcomes.
- 1.5 The purpose of the Quality Assurance Framework is to:
- Ensure that children and families are getting consistent and high quality services
 - Review and evaluate standards
 - Provide consistency in our system of monitoring and evaluating our effectiveness
 - Prioritise and facilitate continuous improvements within Children's Services
 - Support learning and to inform our Workforce Development Strategy
- 1.6 The Framework is underpinned by a set of overarching principle priorities and standards which are continually reviewed and updated in line with new learning and understanding gained through improvement.

2 Key roles and functions

2.1 Assuring quality is everyone's responsibility. There are some specific roles, for instance:

- Frontline staff
- Managers
- Reviewing and Quality Assurance Service
- Directorate leadership team
- Local Safeguarding Children Board
- Elected Members

2.2 There are a number of different roles/functions/boards within the organisation that have a specific purpose in quality assuring our work., the responsibility to implement this framework rests with all of Children's Social Care; whether that be as the first point of contact for people approaching Children's Social Care or as a member of the Senior Management Team. Below is a table outlining the key roles/functions/boards within Reading Borough Council and their quality assurance function.

Role/Function	Description
All Staff	All staff are responsible for ensuring they uphold high quality practice standards and that this is reflected in the quality of case files and outcomes for children and families, monitor their effectiveness and are responsible for embedding a culture of learning and continuous improvement in their teams. Those conducting inspections, audits and other quality assurance approaches share responsibility for ensuring that frontline staffs are actively engaged in the quality assurance process of setting and monitoring standards.
Team Managers and Assistant Team Managers	Team Managers and Assistant Team Managers are responsible for ensuring that quality standards are met and to take corrective action where necessary. They are responsible for supporting frontline and support staff to deliver services that are of a high standard and effective. This is achieved through the line manager process, including performance management. Managers are responsible for ensuring their direct reports are very clear about managers and employees in the supervision and appraisal structure and how practice standards are an integral element of the process. Managers will use all of the available processes to recognise and praise good performance and address poor performance. They will quality control pieces of work, for example by

	signing off assessments and by auditing a case file. They will also work with the staff they manage, using the council's supervision and appraisal systems, to give staff feedback about the quality of their work and ensure that staff receive the support and challenge they need to maintain and improve practice. Team Managers are also responsible for devising and monitoring Team Development Plans.
Service Managers and Heads of Service	Service Managers are responsible for ensuring that quality assurance activity is carried out thoroughly on a regular basis and that the findings are acted upon and shared with staff and form a part of any further development/improvement plan. Heads of Service are responsible for ensuring that findings inform policy and the strategic framework.
Director of Children's Services (DCS)	The DCS has professional responsibility for the leadership, strategy and effectiveness of local authority children's services. The DCS is responsible for securing the provision of services which address the needs of all children and young people, including the most disadvantaged and vulnerable, and their families and carers. The DCS will work closely with other local partners to improve the outcomes and well-being of children and young people. The DCS is responsible for the performance of local authority functions relating to the education and social care of children and young people. The DCS is responsible for ensuring that effective systems are in place for discharging these functions, including where a local authority has commissioned any services from another provider rather than delivering them itself. The DCS should have regard to the General Principles of the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child (UNCRC) and ensure that children and young people are involved in the development and delivery of local services (Statutory guidance on the roles and responsibilities of the Director of Children's Services and the Lead Member for Children's Services, DfE, April 2013).
The Directorate Leadership Team (DLT)	The Directorate Leadership Team is responsible for the strategic and operational function of Children's Services, inclusive of quality and performance. The Team receives quantitative and qualitative performance data from the Quality Assurance Team. The data is used to analyse performance against need, approve improvement plans and resource allocations. The Directorate Leadership Team is held to account by the Lead Member for Children's Services, for improving outcomes for children, young people and their families through the delivery of high quality services.

Lead Member for Children's Services (LMCS)	The LMCS, as a member of the Council, has political responsibility for the leadership, strategy and effectiveness of local authority children's services. The LMCS is also democratically accountable to local communities and has a key role in defining the local vision and setting political priorities for children's services within the broader political context of the Council. The LMCS is responsible for ensuring that the needs of all children and young people, including the most disadvantaged and vulnerable, and their families and carers, are addressed. In doing so, the LMCS will work closely with other local partners to improve the outcomes and well-being of children and young people. The LMCS should have regard to the UNCRC and ensure that children and young people are involved in the development and delivery of local services (Statutory guidance on the roles and responsibilities of the Director of Children's Services and the Lead Member for Children's Services, DfE, April 2013).
Principal Social Worker	The Principal Social Worker represents the views of frontline staff to senior managers and will champion frontline practitioners and the quality of practice. This includes mentoring and coaching practitioners, providing practice learning opportunities to students, undertaking reflective supervision, promoting innovation, and disseminating informed and evidence based interventions.
Training and Development Lead Officer	The Training and Development Lead Officer is responsible for promoting continuous professional development. In terms of quality assurance of practice they have a role in taking on board lessons from quality assurance and ensuring they are embedded into relevant learning and development opportunities for practitioners.
Service Manager - Quality Assurance	The QA service manager is responsible for oversight of this framework, for Independent Reviewing Officers and Child Protection Chairs; and the LADO and Quality Assurance manager. This team reviews, audits and raises challenge and themes of practice in their areas of responsibility. It is their responsibility to ensure the quality assurance processes in place are robust.
Performance Analysts	The Performance Analyst role is to provide a range of reports and information to support operational activity. Performance data ensures that there is sufficient reporting on local and national indicators, whilst highlighting areas of strengths and areas for development. Performance Analysts maintain a data quality role and are responsible for submitting statutory returns on behalf of Children's Social Care.

Corporate Complaints Team	Children’s Social Care recognise that on occasions standards of service may fall below expectations. Where this leads to complaints, Children’s Social Care will use the outcomes from such complaints to feed into improvements. Reading Borough Council implement restorative approaches to aim to respond to complaints swiftly and lead to early resolution. The Corporate Complaints Team will liaise regularly with Team Managers regarding ongoing complaints, and will feedback emerging themes and discuss actions that need to be undertaken in order for improvement to take place, in partnership with the Quality Assurance Manager.
Human Resources	Human Resources are involved in ensuring we understand the needs of our workforce. They also support us where individual practice consistently falls below expected standards, but also when organisational changes are required.
Children in Care Council (Your Destiny, Your Choice)	The Children in Care Council is made up of young people in care and care leavers and leads consultation projects with children about their experience in local authority care and feedback their findings to Councillors and senior managers. The Children in Care Council also meets annually with the Independent Chair of the Safeguarding Children Board.
Corporate Parenting Panel	The responsibility for improving outcomes and actively promoting the life chances of looked after children is shared by the local Authority and partner agencies. The Corporate Parenting Panel meets regularly and receives reports on progress, and participates in discussion about proposals for improvement and development. Children looked after and young people leaving care are subject to consultation through the Corporate Parenting Panel.
Local Safeguarding Children Board	The Local Safeguarding Children Board is a key statutory board for ensuring the effectiveness of safeguarding of all organisations working with children and young people. The LSCB plays a key role in relation to the links between Quality Assurance in Children’s Social Care and partner agencies. The LSCB undertakes multi-agency audits, themed audits, serious case reviews, and collects and analyses multi-agency data. The outcomes of the work carried out through the LSCB will inform ongoing improvement.

2.3 The LSCB is a key statutory mechanism for ensuring relevant organisations in a local area co-operate to safeguard and promote the welfare of children, young people and their families and ensure single agency and multiagency work in child protection is of a good standard. In delivering its function the LSCB Performance and Quality Assurance sub-group receives regular reports on the performance of member agencies. The Performance and Quality Assurance sub-group provides the quality assurance function of the LSCB, commissioning multi-agency audits and reviewing audits of individual organisations.

2.4 A part of the Board’s scrutiny function is carried out through the Serious Case Review process. The Serious Case Review process is an investigation into the engagement of services with that child or young person before their death or near miss of a death. Each Serious Case Review includes internal management review reports from each agency involved. The internal management review sets out how the agency carried out its functions. The LSCB Berkshire West Case Review Group analyses the learning from the Serious Case Review, develops and monitors the implementation of an action plan to achieve improvements. Serious Case Reviews are conducted under the guidance contained in Working Together to safeguard children (2015). The LSCB needs to demonstrate that all partner organisations have learnt from Serious Case Reviews and that practice has evolved as a result of the review.

3 Professional standards – Social Workers

3.1 Children’s Social Care employ qualified and registered Social Workers. Where needed we also contract with Social Workers to carry out bespoke pieces of work or to cover vacancies in our social work teams. Social Workers be registered with the Health and Care Professions Council who is the professions regulator.

3.2 Individuals are responsible for the way they practice and whilst our systems and processes are in place to support them, professionals employed or contracted by Children’s Social Care are individually accountable for the standards of their work. The various documents/codes listed below govern/direct the standard expected of those regulated professionals.

3.3 The Reading Borough Council Practice Standards are included at Appendix 1.

Registered Social Workers
Social Work Professional Capabilities Framework 2012	This documents sets out consistent expectations of social workers at every stage in their career and provides a backdrop to post qualifying continuous professional development.

Standards of Proficiency –
Social Workers in England
(HCPC, 2012)

The Standards of Proficiency set out what a social worker in England should know, understand and be able to do when they complete their social work training so that they can register with the HCPC. They set out clear expectations of a social worker's knowledge and abilities when they start practising. It places responsibility on workers to engage with quality assurance.

Other Standards of Proficiency exist for other professionals such as Art Therapists and Psychologists.

4 Quality Assurance Cycle

- 4.1 The diagram below shows clearly and simply that quality assurance can be seen as a cycle. To improve the services that we deliver it is necessary to agree standards, monitor work; listen to those that use our services; and invest in the development of the organisation in order to secure the right outcomes for service users.

4.2 Identify : A Quality Assurance Board will review practice standards, audits, inspections performance information, compliments and complaints, IRO escalations, procedures and current issues for the service. This will identify key themes for service improvement and may result in action being required, whether this is an audit, a case review or observed practice.

4.3 Task / Audit: There are a number of outcomes of the discussion at the Quality Assurance Board. This could include the commissioning of an audit or a case review, the issuing of a management instruction, the development of a new procedure or managers observing some practice. For each, a scope will be developed by the Service Manager for Quality Assurance who will ensure that the scope is firmly linked to the request of the Quality Assurance Board.

4.4 Develop improvement plan: The outcome of the task or audit will be the writing of a report that is presented to the Quality Assurance Board and to the Children's Services

Management Team (CSMT). CSMT will have responsibility for developing an improvement plan to ensure that the outcomes of the audit lead to improvements in service design and delivery. Where the task was the development of a procedure or new process, CSMT will be responsible for developing an implementation plan that is monitored by the Quality Assurance Board.

4.5 Support: Support in delivering the improvements will be offered by the Principal Social Worker who will assist frontline practitioners in implementing any changes in practice. The Workforce Development Team will assist this process in ensuring that appropriate training is offered. Team Managers and Assistant Team Managers will ensure that supervision acts as a conduit for ensuring that changes have been made.

4.6 Review: When the cycle comes back to 'Review', the Quality Assurance Board will provide challenge to Service Managers and Team Managers to ensure that improvements have been delivered and are delivering positive outcomes for children and young people. By reviewing performance data, service user feedback and information from IROs and CP Chairs, the Board will assure itself that the relevant improvements have been made. A rolling work programme will be established by the board to ensure that key areas of practice are addressed and sufficient management oversight is given to key issues.

5 Methodologies for assuring quality of services

5.1 The framework covers the full range of services for children and young people across early help, targeted support, protection and specialist provision. This enables the creation of a more comprehensive understanding of the child's journey from which we can learn and improve our service delivery and make better informed decisions to achieve the desired outcomes.

5.2 Information is considered and gathered from the following sources:

- a) Performance and Management Information: Weekly data tells us something about how well the service is doing and will ordinarily measure either service outputs or outcomes for children. Many of these indicators are nationally set and reported upon. Statistical neighbours and best performance authorities benchmarking data is available and is used by Reading to drive service improvement. Looking at activity data allows us to consider the demands on the service. The journey of the child can be better understood through our system and conversion rates eg the number of referrals that become assessments, how many Section 47 enquiries lead to Child Protection Plans, how many children subject to child protection plans go on to become cared for children etc. This helps management identify whether there are any variations that require further exploration.

- b) Complaints and Compliments about Children's Services are another important element of the Quality Assurance Framework. The Complaints Officer will provide quarterly reports, briefly identifying the nature of all reports received and provide an analysis which identifies trends and makes comparisons about the nature of complaints.
- c) Service User Feedback It is essential that children, young people and their families' views about the services that they received are sought and captured within the quality assurance process. This ensures services are matching needs and that service users are central to the service delivery.

Consulting with – and using feedback gained – from children, young people, families, and workers is central to understanding the subjective experiences of those accessing or working for Children's Social Care. The Principal Social Worker role is pivotal in understanding the experiences of frontline practitioners. Seeking feedback helps us to improve how we deliver our services to individuals, improve the working conditions and processes for our teams, and enables us to identify themes to be addressed. Identifying themes will allow us to build upon excellence and continuously improve.

Feedback can be obtained in a number of different ways, even when not formally requested. Feedback can typically be found:

- Within assessments
- From staff and carer supervision records
- Within annual carer review records
- Contained within case notes
- From telephone call records or emails
- From complaints and compliments logs

There is an expectation that every child and carer who comes into contact with the service has an opportunity to express their views. Some of the ways we do this include;

- Frontline staff will undertake simple questionnaires with children during one of their initial visits.
- Follow up questionnaires will be completed at later points in the child's journey, review, case closure, and for a sample of cases six months after the end of our involvement. This will enable us to compare the child's position at each point.

- Parental views will be sought at closure using a standard questionnaire.
- Child and parent views will also be gained via the senior management audit, questionnaires from LAC Reviews and Child Protection Conferences.
- Feedback will be gained from thematic audits.

Foster Carer views will be obtained on an annual basis through their annual review. In addition to this there is an annual survey of foster carers.

- d) Participation and Advocacy work completed with children and their families is also a vital component in the Quality Assurance Framework. The Children's Participation Worker will complete a quarterly report of all advocacy provided to young people and the report will contain a brief analysis which will identify key themes and trends in the nature of difficulties young people are experiencing with service provision and engagement.
- e) Observation of practice: Learning at and through work is an essential means of employee development. Direct observation involves a manager or supervisor observing a worker, carrying out a task, evaluating their practice and performance and providing structured constructive feedback. Every worker will be observed at least once a year by their manager. This may include a visit to a child or young person and their family or carer, a network or core group meeting, a child or young person's review meeting, a child protection conference, a looked-after children's review or Court presentation.
- f) Mid-way reviews – Independent Reviewing Officers (IROs) and Child Protection Chairs (CPC): IROs and CPC's play a key role in planning and assuring the impact and quality of work undertaken by children's social care. Their role is to ensure that the quality of the work on a single and multi-agency basis is of a high standard, that performance indicators and procedural requirements are met, and that plans for children and young people are outcome-based and meet the individual needs of the child or young person. IROs and CPC's undertake mid-way reviews on all children and young people who are looked after or in the child protections process.
- g) Serious case reviews, serious incident and near misses serious case reviews, serious incidents and near misses provide the opportunity to reflect in detail on practice within individual cases, and to identify and act on areas for improvement. The learning from all of these cases will be disseminated across Children's Services.
- h) Team meetings: Team meetings are an integral tool to ensure that key messages are disseminated across the service. All teams are encouraged to have a regular meeting to which the Service Manager and Head of Service are invited. A standing item on these agendas should include messages from CSMT and from DLT. Team meetings should take place monthly.

- i) Joint meetings: In order to promote good practice teams are encouraged to work effectively together. IROs and CP Chairs should meet with frontline teams to feedback on issues of quality at reviews and at conferences. A joint meeting between frontline teams and the IROs / CP Chairs should take place at least once per quarter. Where issues can be resolved informally in this way it is a constructive way of minimizing the need for IRO escalation of issues.
- j) Transfer / Workload Allocation Meetings: A weekly meeting takes place to ensure that cases can be effectively transferred between teams. This is chaired by the Head of Safeguarding and Long Term Teams. The Transfer procedure sets out the standards required of case file recording at the point of transfer. The Team Manager must have signed off a Transfer Summary and a Transfer Audit before the case can be transferred to another team.
- k) Supervision: The Supervision Policy requires that all social workers are supervised at least monthly although it may happen more frequently where the worker has a complex caseload. This is the opportunity for managers to ensure that practice standards are being adhered to and constructive support can be identified at an early stage where necessary.
- l) Group Supervision is encouraged as a mechanism for the team or a group of peers to reflect on the work undertaken with a particular family in order to help move the case on and secure positive outcomes. It may also be used to learn new practices together or to share best practice.
- m) The Principal Social Worker: The Principal Social Worker will offer support to teams to ensure that practice improvements are embedded and secured. Issues arising during the course of any work will be fed back routinely to the DCS and the Head of Safeguarding and Long Term Teams and will be a standing item on the agenda of the Quality Assurance Board. Key training issues identified by the Principal Social Worker will be notified to the Workforce Development Team to secure appropriate training.
- n) Audits: see section 6. Audits will be commissioned to regularly review the quality of case work to ensure that children and families are being supported appropriately and that positive changes are being made. The outcomes of these audits will be reported back to the Quality Assurance Board and to the Children's Services Management Team (CSMT) in order to monitor improvements.

6 Audit framework

- 6.1 The audit framework provides a structure for the process of case work audit and review, creating a culture in which both quantitative and qualitative aspects of case management are routinely examined and reported in a systematic way to ensure the best possible outcomes for children and young people. Although these two aspects of auditing can be conducted independently, both are necessary to ensure a total quality management approach.

- Quantitative Auditing Considers whether the record is up-to-date, contains all the relevant documentation and that the documentation has been properly completed, within timescale.
- Qualitative Auditing Consider the quality of the information and recording on the child or young person's file, the quality of the decision making process, risk assessment and analysis, and whether it reflects good practice.
- Moderation Process Built into any audit process must be a quality assurance process of monitoring the quality of the auditing carried out. This can be established through a process in which a manager or peer of the auditor re-audits random case files. Service Managers will be responsible for their service areas.

6.2 Audit is a continual and dynamic process. It is part on an improvement cycle by which we set standards, evaluate impact, analyse findings, disseminate learning (strengths and areas for development), and take action to improve.

6.3 The audit process should create dialogue between the auditor and the worker. Whilst the worker must be open to professional scrutiny and challenge as part of the process, it is important for this to be done in a way that is open, honest and transparent, so that everyone works together to improve the quality of service we deliver.

6.4 All staff are accountable for making sure that Reading Children's Services practice standards and priorities are met. Practice standards and priorities are informed by statutory guidance and regulation, based on evidence about the elements of practice which are most likely to lead to good quality services and positive outcomes for children and young people.

6.5 A number of audit tools have been developed that are structured around Reading's practice standards and priorities and that scrutinise all areas of service delivery - see appendix 2. The types of audit include:

a) Case file audits: Quarterly audits across the service are carried out by operational managers and are randomly peer reviewed across the service. In addition, group audits, comprising of staff from across Children's Services take place and serve as a means to involve staff at all levels in the learning and development process. This work is crucial to add some qualitative information to data analysis and to pick up any practice themes that need attention. The Director of Children's Services and Managing Director will audit 2 randomly selected cases on a quarterly basis.

The Fostering and Adoption Team, Youth Offending Service, Children's Action Team undertake routine monthly audits using audit tools specific to their service and The Access and Assessment Team audit cases prior to transfer.

b) Thematic audit: These audits will take place at least twice a year. The primary purpose of a thematic audit is to identify and develop understanding in respect of a service, area of practice or issue, in order to assess the quality of practice. A thematic audit will follow an area of work across different teams or services and will examine a particular theme over a period of time and include a variety of methods, such as file audits and direct interviews or focus groups with staff across the relevant service and with other key stakeholders.

c) Supervision audits: Throughout the course of the year, Team Managers will undertake an audit of supervision files of each Assistant Team Manager's supervision with Social Workers. Service Managers will audit the supervision files of each Team Manager with Assistant Team Managers. Head of Service will complete a sample of supervision audits of each Service Managers' Supervision of Team Managers.

d) Multi agency audits facilitated through the performance and Quality Assurance subgroup. A rolling programme of multi-agency audits is in place to promote learning for all partner agencies. To ensure Reading LSCB has in place sound mechanisms for monitoring, evaluating and auditing safeguarding activity by partner agencies, particularly in relation to front line services, ensuring that improvements are made to deliver better outcomes for children. In addition its role is to demonstrate that Reading LSCB is a 'learning organisation' that has a strong focus on impact and effectiveness.

7 Learning and Development

- 7.1. It is imperative that learning from each quality assurance activity is shared with the right people and used meaningfully to change practice and improve outcomes for children, families and employees. Learning should make evidenced links to the following areas:
- Supervision
 - Training
 - Complaints and Compliments
 - Workforce Planning and Development
 - Commissioning
 - Service Plans and Team Plans
 - Reading Children's Services Priorities and Business Plans
 - Reading's Service Improvement Plan
 - Reviewing Officer/Child Protection Conference Chair quality assurance.
 - Monthly Performance Challenge Meetings
 - Adoption Panel and Fostering Panel quality assurance reports
- 7.2. Service Manager Quality Assurance with the support of the Principal Social Worker will provide quarterly reports which will identify themes from audits. The Quality Assurance Board will consider the messages and learning from these processes in connection to learning and action planning that emerges from this framework. The service level self-assessment will facilitate this process.
- 7.3. The quarterly reports will form the basis of the report that goes to Adult Children and Education (ACE) committee.
- 7.4. The Director of Children's Services, Head of Children's Services and The Principal Social Worker have regular dialogue with staff in Children's Services, to gather views/comments on practice issues, in a range of fora, for instance, focus groups, staff briefings, whole service conferences and Induction of new starters. Feedback in respect of the findings of audits and the relevant themes will be disseminated at such events.
- 7.5. The quarterly Quality Assurance Board is chaired by the Head of Transformation and Governance. The meeting will look at the various strands of quality assurance activity and will agree action plans developed as a result of activity. This meeting will act as a challenge meeting where the Heads of Service can scrutinise activity, receive exception and corrective action reports and call managers to account.

8 Conclusion

- 8.1. Work to protect children is by definition complex and multi-faceted, requiring a whole system approach. The needs of the children involved are such that the system need to ensure that areas in need of improvement and apparent strengths are constantly explored and unpicked to ensure the strengths are real and embedded and the areas for improvement are being effectively addressed.

- 8.2. This Quality Assurance Framework sets out how that exploration will take place in Reading and ensures that improvement can never stand still. The framework will be reviewed on an annual basis.

Good Practice Standards For Children's Social Care

GUIDANCE FOR THE COMPLETION OF THE CASE FILE AUDIT

This tool should be used by the auditor and case worker together. The audit tool seeks to capture a holistic view of the case; monitor compliance with legislation and procedures; identify good practice and areas for improvement. The file should reflect the journey of the child and evidence of their voice being heard.

Evaluation of the case will follow discussion using the Ofsted criteria.

The grades match those of Ofsted and the descriptors are a succinct version of those set out in inspection framework:

- | | | |
|----------|-----------------------------|---|
| 4 | Outstanding | Highest quality practice delivering measurably improved outcomes, for some children their progress exceeds expectations. |
| 3 | Good | Practice is of a good standard, risks are identified and reduced. Decisions are made so that delay is avoided and children are helped to live in safe homes, with safe secure relationships with adults that will support them over time. There is clear evidence that the aims of the work are shared by the child, professional network and family and any obstacles to achieving these aims are quickly addressed. |
| 2 | Requires improvement | Minimum standards have been achieved, children are not at risk of significant harm and the welfare of looked after children is promoted and safeguarded. |
| 1 | Inadequate | Practice is below standard and may cause risk of harm to children and the welfare of looked after children is not safeguarded. |

The section grades should then be recorded in the table on the final summary page of the audit tool with a grade then being given for the three overall judgements.

Once the audit is complete, please discuss with the social worker / their supervisor to agree remedial actions and timescales (section 7).

Send completed audit and remedial actions to Service Manager Quality Assurance

AUDIT

This tool should be used to ensure the consistent recording of evidence when reading case records. It brings together the key criteria from the Ofsted evaluation schedule. Priority is afforded to evidence concerning the quality and effectiveness of help, care and protection and the impact this has on children, young people and families.

The auditor should only evidence criteria which is relevant / applicable to their area of work and should cross-reference with the 'evaluation guidance'.
