OUR NEW HOSPITAL PROGRAMME

New Hospital Programme

- Major Government programme investing in hospitals across England
- Centralised programme which will use a common set of designs to save money and time – this is called Hospital 2.0
- Royal Berkshire Hospital was one of the original hospitals on the programme in 2019 and due to be built before 2030 – this was then delayed to start construction in 2031 with the introduction of RAAC hospitals.
- The outcome of a further government review was announced on 20 January 2025

OUR NEW HOSPITAL PROGRAMME

Royal Berkshire Hospital

- Following the review, our programme has been delayed further and construction will now start between 2037-39
- Funding of £2 billion or more has been allocated, indicating support for a whole new hospital on a new site
- Funding for the programme will resume after 2030
- The Trust are standing the programme team down
